Student Guide

Senior College 2023

Nau mai, haere mai, ki Te Puna Wai o Waipapa Welcome to Hagley!

Hagley is a great place. It is an all age community college. It is a multi-cultural community with a strong whānau and a large number of international students. It is a co-educational community in which inclusion & diversity is valued. Staff are all addressed by first name.

We welcome back students who have been part of our College before and we extend a very warm welcome to our new students. The good news is there are many new students so you don't 'look new' as you might at other schools. People come here from all parts of the city and all sectors of the community. We expect every person on the campus to make sensible use of their time, respect the opinions of others and care for the facilities provided. We aim to provide an adult learning environment.

Beginning of the Year

This can be a difficult time for both students and staff! Please be patient and anything you are unsure of, please ask. If you are lost or uncertain - go to the main reception area.

It is vitally important for the College to be sure how many students are in every class and make adjustments if numbers are too high or too low. To help us and you to get things right, please note:

- You must attend the first sessions of your classes. If you cannot do so, please inform us by phoning the Absence line (03) 379 3090 ext 1, or you may find your place in the class has been taken by another student.
- We try to keep the timetable unchanged but changing numbers mean that some subjects may be moved. If your timetable is changed you will be informed.

A list of basic stationery requirements is on the College website.

Need Help?

Michaela Heenan
NCEA Administrator

National Qualifications

Michaela is the NCEA Administrator and has an office in the Enrolment Centre.

The National Certificate of Educational Achievement (NCEA) is the main national qualification for secondary school students in New Zealand. NCEA is a national qualification on the New Zealand Qualification Framework. Standards students achieve as part of NCEA can be used as building blocks for other qualifications. NCEAs are recognised by employers, and used for selection by universities and polytechnics, both in New Zealand and overseas.

How It Works

- Each year, students study a number of subjects.
- In each subject, skills and knowledge are assessed against a number of standards.
- At the College we use a range of internal and external assessments to measure how well our students meet these standards. Internal assessments take place throughout the school year and external assessments are assessed by examination at the end of the year.
- When a student achieves a standard, they gain a number of credits. Students must achieve a certain number of credits to gain an NCEA certificate.
- Subject teachers will provide a full course outline at the beginning of the year showing all the available standards the course offers.
- There are three levels of NCEA certificate, depending on the difficulty of the standards achieved. In general students work through levels 1 to 3.
- Students are recognised for high achievement at each level by gaining NCEA with Merit or NCEA with Excellence. High achievement in a course is also recognised.
- Fees are payable for each year you participate in standards.
- For more information, check the NZQA website www.nzqa.govt.nz or phone 0800 697 296

Appeals

Students have the right to appeal assessment results. The process is to first discuss this with your subject teacher. A request may be made to involve the Head of Department or another teacher. If this does not resolve the issue, the appeal may be put in writing to the Deputy Principal : Student Learning, Marie Stribling.

Reassessment

The opportunity for a further opportunity for reassessment will be provided where possible. Please refer to the course outlines for the individual subjects you are studying.

Special Assessment Conditions

If you identify as needing special assessment conditions, such as a reader/writer, please ensure you contact Michaela Heenan at the beginning of Term 1. Failure to do so may prevent NZQA from approving this facility. The College will not approve the use of reader/writer or other special assessment conditions where the validity of the assessment is compromised. Full reports may be required from professionals each year to allow the College to apply to NZQA to use special assessment conditions.

Harassment

The College provides an environment where harassment of any kind is neither tolerated nor condoned. If you are being bullied report this to a teacher, your Year Advisor, or the Director of Students, and your complaint will be dealt with.

Our Board has a policy on Harassment which protects everyone who works or studies at the College. This includes all students, teachers and employees. Harassment is unwelcome behaviour which can interfere with the teaching and learning processes or the work of employees.

No person has to put up with any bullying, harassment or discrimination because of their sexual orientation or identity. If this is happening to you, contact Suzanne Wood in Simpson House.

We have students from all over the world. No student should suffer any form of harassment because of their ethnicity, the colour of their skin, or their religious beliefs.

You do not have to feel unjustly treated at Hagley by another student, or staff member.

You have the right to feel emotionally and physically safe at all times. If you feel you are not being treated fairly we have a complaints procedure that can support you to resolve this. To find out the procedure contact either one of the counsellors, the Assistant Principal or one of the Year Advisers.

Cyber Bullying

We treat this bullying very seriously. If you are receiving abusive or threatening texts, messages on any social media site, please report this to Suzanne Waters Assistant Principal.

Attendance

As part of the acceptance of an enrolment into the College, students commit to full attendance in all of their programmes for the complete academic year.

The expectation of our students is that you will be in class at all times, unless illness or other important circumstances prevent this. If you are absent for any reason a phone call must be made to the College on the day the absence occurs.

Incentives and rewards such as Pizza with the Principal, run in Terms 2 & 3 to promote positive attendance within the College. Our Wellbeing Administrator, Illa Russell has responsibility for the College's daily attendance text system. She is located in Simpson House.

Absence

Adolescent students: If you are absent from the College, your parent/caregiver is to ring the College Hotline (379 3090 ext 1) on the morning of the absence and give your name, reason and how long you will be absent.

*If using the College App you can ring directly from the app or alternatively send the attendance administration an email.

Students who are struggling with their learning can be assessed by Learning Support Services, to identify where they may need further support at school. Students who are entered into NCEA subjects can also be assessed for eligibility for Special Assessment Conditions (SAC). Learning Support Services will also apply to NZQA for any assessment support senior students are eligible for.

Movement about the College

All movement in the grounds and within buildings is expected to follow common sense rules, e.g. observing "left hand" system in corridors. Cycles should not be ridden so as to endanger or inconvenience pedestrians. This applies particularly near the Pre-School and on blind corners. Cars must observe speed limits set and must not be driven in a way that would endanger others.

Emergency Procedures

You should read the instructions posted on the wall close to the door of each classroom you use. These instructions give details of the evacuation route you have to take and show the area you have to meet in after leaving the building.

Fire:

A continuous alarm bell will ring.

- 1 Follow the directions of your teacher.
- 2 Use the evacuation route for the classroom you are in.
- 3 Move quickly - do not stop or detour to collect personal items.
- 4 Stay in your class group at your assembly area. Sit on the ground at that point.

If the fire alarm rings at interval or lunchtime assemble on the front basketball court and wait for instructions from staff.

Earthquake:

Do not congregate near buildings where there is a danger of falling debris!

- 1 Take cover under a desk or reinforced structure.
- 2 Keep your back to any glass.
- 3 Crouch with your hands clasped on your head.
- 4 Stay inside.
- 5 After the earthquake follow the teacher's instructions and/or use the evacuation procedures posted on the wall.
- 6 If you are outside stay at least 30 metres away from the main block and make your way to the nearest assembly area.
- 7 Keep clear of broken or overhead power lines.

Lockdown

Follow the instructions of your teacher this is likely to involve:

1. Move in to the middle of the room and stay on the ground, stay still.
2. You will know the lockdown is over when a member of the college Senior Leadership team visit the room and tell you it is over.

School Guidelines

The primary purpose of these guidelines is to provide students and staff with a safe and pleasant learning and teaching environment.

Dress

While acknowledging the right of students to dress individually, it is expected that all clothes worn are clean and in good repair. It is expected that clothing worn is suitable to be worn in an educational institution. There is a requirement that clothing is not too exposing and does not have pictures, designs or language displayed that is offensive to others. Students need to be aware that while the College does not have a problem with students with body piercings, some course providers and employers do. If you intend seeking placements on courses or work exploration you need to be mindful of this. Please note: the wearing of long studs as worn accessories is not acceptable at Hagley, and students will be asked to remove them. Shoes must be worn at all times.

Boundaries of the College

The supervision area includes all of the College and the surrounding streets (both sides) as well as the area of Hagley Park immediately opposite the College up to the edge of the hockey/cricket field. The pathway around the park is to be kept clear at all times for joggers etc. We supervise this area for your safety. For the purpose of these rules, the supervision area is considered part of the College.

Physical and Verbal Violence

Physical or verbal abuse or intimidation of staff or students will not be tolerated.

Racial, Gender Orientation and Sexual Harassment

Hagley Community College provides an environment where harassment is neither tolerated nor condoned. Sexual harassment contact people are available to deal with concerns you may have in that area. The College also has a racial harassment officer. See under Student Services who to contact if you are being harassed.

Alcohol and Drugs

The consumption, possession, supply and being under the influence of such substances is prohibited on the College premises, within the College vicinity, for all students travelling to and from the College, at College functions, and on College trips. The College's Well-being Team have a zero tolerance policy for such substances.

Smoking & Vaping

Hagley has a smoke-free environment policy. Smoking & vaping on the College site is prohibited for all students, staff & visitors. Senior Students who smoke or vape must do so away from the college site. Hagley Park is also a smoke free environment. Students are not permitted to congregate and smoke outside the gates. This includes vaping.

Personal Wellbeing

At Te Puna Wai o Waipapa we use some specific strategies to support and promote our students' wellbeing. The approaches that we are incorporating fit with a Positive Education approach, which is a combination of evidence-based Positive Psychology strategies and educational best practice.

Some of the key approaches we use are outlined here. There are many overlaps between models and strategies: gains from one approach can feed into gains in other areas.

TE WHARE TAPA WHĀ MODEL OF HAUORA

Mason Durie (1994) developed Te Whare Tapa Whā to show the importance of the four aspects of health where each wall is essential to making a sturdy and resilient house, all built on te whenua.

We can use this model to reflect both on individual wellbeing and the hauora of groups and communities we are part of.

PERMA THEORY OF WELLBEING

Martin Seligman (2011) developed a PERMA model for wellbeing.

We can use this as a way to quick-check the balance of different aspects of our lives, and identify where a shift in focus might be beneficial to our wellbeing. Using the framework of the PERMA model can be useful for reflection and goal-setting.

WAIARO WHAKATIPU - GROWTH MINDSET

Carol Dweck (2006) identified that adopting a growth mindset can have a significant impact on learning, motivation and achievement. A growth mindset is a belief that skills can be learned and intelligence can be developed.

A growth mindset may seem more familiar on the sports field, but research shows the benefits of transferring this attitude to academic and other areas. We seek to intentionally frame challenges as opportunities to learn rather than seeing them as threats, and to see failures as interesting, informative, and motivating rather than discouraging.

Motivation can be damaged when we have not had experiences of success and we come to believe that failure at a task is a fixed state. Fixed mindset thinking can also be damaging for people who are used to easy success when they first meet a setback or challenge that requires hard work.

It can be helpful to reframe and embrace feedback, challenge, setbacks, hard work. You can promote a growth mindset by prompting your children to adjust their language:

RATHER THAN

TRY

I'm great at this. >> I'm on the right track here.

I can't do this. >> I'm going to train my brain to do this.

NGĀ PŪKENGĀ O TE TANGATA - CHARACTER STRENGTHS

We look at character strengths according to a framework developed by Christopher Peterson and Martin Seligman (2004). Their work outlines the benefits of focusing our attention on strengths rather than weaknesses. The approach is not about identifying fixed personality traits, but seeing aspects of character as similar to muscles that can be developed and strengthened. Research shows that both knowing and deliberately using character strengths to meet challenges can increase individuals' positive emotions and have a preventive effect on mental illness.

A strengths focus also helps to develop a positive environment and can contribute to feelings of happiness and building relationships, which in turn ties back to different aspects of the PERMA model.

Some of the ways we use character strengths include identifying which strengths are currently our strongest (signature strengths), using signature strengths to gain leverage on meeting a challenge, choosing a lesser strength to develop, and recognising the use of strengths in ourselves and others. For example, being aware of overusing various strengths and reframing unhelpful habits is shown to be a strategy that enhances wellbeing and academic progress for students who struggle with perfectionism.

For a snapshot of your present strengths, you can do a VIA Character Strengths assessment through the www.allright.org.nz website.
